

National Board Writing Institutes

NYSUT and Lower Hudson Teacher Center Network are pleased to once again, provide support for National Board Regional Writing Institutes.

A Regional Writing Institute for National Board Certification (NBC) is a multi-district collaboration of teachers and facilitators from various certificate areas who are engaged in peer review, video analysis, and collaboration to enhance teacher effectiveness using the NBPTS' standards. It provides teachers who are pursuing National Board Certification an opportunity for in-depth support. This institute is intended for current and advanced, (retake) candidates or NBCTs pursuing renewal NBC candidates. This institute is not an introduction to National Board Certification. For these sessions we will be meeting in person and each participant will have an assigned time to get support and there will be a community of learners as well for support. Please feel free to bring lunch and snacks.
